Our Mission: Growing Together in Christ Through Worship, Fellowship, Witness and Service

FROM THE PASTOR

As I am writing this article I am still deeply saddened and concerned about the racial tension and atmosphere of anger and suspicion and distrust in our country. (It was just this past Sunday that we prayed about the killings of the police officers in Dallas and the two men in Baton Rouge and Minnesota.) In the invitation to prayer last Sunday (July 10), I said this:

What I DO know is this. We are called to bring light and hope and peace and grace. We are called to build relationships with our brothers and sisters – white, black, gay straight, young, old, Methodist, atheist, Muslim, Jew, Catholic, liberal, conservative, centrist – categories don't matter.

It isn't enough to have prayed and lit candles on July 10. I invite you into a season of prayer for the community that is our country:

That people of faith intentionally examine their every interaction with others, and especially others who are different from themselves, to see whether we are bringing light and hope and peace and grace or contributing by our own actions or expressions to the atmosphere enveloping our nation. That we as a church community will actively bring peace and grace into the fabric of the Reisterstown community, in particular, and every community that we touch in our daily lives.

To that end, we will be offering a 9-week support group for children who have a family member who is incarcerated with a support group for the non-incarcerated adult family members as well, beginning on August 18. Pray for the group and the leaders, all of whom are RUMC members.

Also to that end, faith leaders in the community are meeting with some of the school administrators over the next few weeks to see how the faith community in town can support and work with the schools to address issues of violence and tension that exist in Reisterstown. Pray for all of our schools and school personnel and for this fledgling effort at a communal approach to some significant community issues.

Jesus said, "You are the light of the world." I am praying that we will shine in ways that we never have before!

Blessings on you,

Vivian

Looking Ahead at Worship in August

August 7 – Second of two films and messages in the 2016 Faith at the Movies Series: Mission Impossible: Rogue Nation

In our June/July film event, we found that it was a very good idea to offer a movie for the younger kids (the teens joined them, too!). We will do that again on August 3 when the youth and adults will watch MI: Rogue Nation. This movie offers up some interesting ethical questions as well as an opportunity to examine where we fit in The Body of Christ – which will be explored on Sunday, August 7, in the morning message.

August 14 through September 4 – Series: What did Jesus Ask?

Based on the book of the same name, this series will explore 4 questions that Jesus asked in the Gospels. In each chapter, a nationally-recognized writer from one of a number of professions, shares a reflection or response to the question for the chapter. It was this book that offered 2 wonderful illustrations for the finale of the miracle series on July 10. Each week, I will share at least a quote from the week's writer: Aug. 14, Yolanda Pierce, Professor, Princeton Theological Seminary; Aug. 21, Wilfredo DeJesus, Pastor, New Covenant Church, Chicago; Aug. 28, Barbara Brown Taylor, a nationally celebrated preacher and seminary prof; and Sept. 4, Michael W. Smith, Grammy-award winning Christian musician.

August 21 —Back to School Sunday and Blessing of the Backpacks! And POTLUCK LUNCHEON!

At both services on this special day, all school personnel and all students will be invited forward for a blessing at the beginning of the school year, and we will also bless the tools that they use in their everyday lives in school, so please bring your backpacks! And then, stay or return for the potluck luncheon from 11:45 (ish) to about 1 pm. Bring a dish to share and join us to start off the fall season with sharing at table with others in the congregation (look for the list of foods to bring in the bulletin, newsletter, and midweek). No agenda – just time to reconnect.

Holy Jesus

Your goodness is certainly beyond measure!

My Friends!

During the task of listening to about 100 pieces of beautiful sacred music in June and into late July, I discovered one magnificent piece about His Holy Name: Jesus. Something wonderful happens whenever you mention His Name.

I found myself repeating very quietly, His Name, to get me through the day and once more prior to my evening prayers. There's something supernatural about His Name. Try it! You will feel good all over.

We look forward to the choir returning to begin rehearsals in late August, and singing to support the spoken Word on September 18, 2016 at 10:30 am. We will have several visitors and hopefully a few new faces.

My thoughts and prayers of thankfulness go out to Pat Botelle, who did listen to some of the special music, to Robine who worked with several publishing companies to procure copies for our singers, my friends throughout the industry who provided evidence of best sellers and my friend who sustains and loves me, Jesus!

Serving you through love

We wanted to provide an update on the HH&F Homeless Ministry, on what's been done and how it has changed since its conception.

Background: We started by visiting local homeless camps we could find, bringing them food, water, blankets and just hanging out and eating pizza with them, and we started to build a relationship with them.

After a change in leadership at the local police precinct, the attitude became one of adversity. When homeless camps were found, their possessions were destroyed and they were run off. We looked and looked, and were only able to find one camp of Hispanics. We saw signs that others may have been around, but they were clearly trying to stay underground.

We decided to change strategies; instead of trying to find them (mostly unsuccessfully), we started offering things that would draw them to us, by offering the opportunity to shower and obtain food. It started slowly; in the beginning many times only one person showed up to shower. Steve, one of our volunteers, started picking them up in the park and bringing them to us. It has taken a long time, but the trust and relationship is there, and now they come not only to shower, but have fellowship and conversation while drinking coffee and eating Wawa sandwiches. We are now providing 3-6 showers a week on most weeks.

Here's what we typically provide: showers, razors and shaving cream, gallon bags of food, bottled water, large flavored drink, bag lunches, men's briefs, socks, gift cards to fast food places, blankets, hygiene kits, and backpacks. In addition, when available, we provide men's clothing, and shoes/boots, ladies underwear, shavers, toilet paper, shampoo, small flashlights, deodorant, laundry soap, and flip flops.

We have come through a learning curve with regards to the ministry, and now try to provide other services when requested and we are able.

We obtained a phone for one of our visitors.

We partnered with Ed Hartman (CCC) to help a veteran who was evicted from his apt. because of dementia and alcoholism, and would be homeless in 3 days. We got him evaluated and found a place for him to live with ongoing care. One of our volunteers, Steve, spent days helping him move.

Another veteran, who is bilingual and part of the camp in the park, has alcoholism. He has entrusted us to talk about it and has requested our help. We researched options, and have found a place ready for him to go for treatment when he's ready.

We get so much positive feedback from our visitors, and it has been a growth experience for the volunteers. Here's what some of our volunteers had to say about the ministry.

Ed Hartman, Director, Community Crises Center, and volunteer: Our outreach has grown to embrace the following. There is a learning curve and we continue to evolve and refine.

We do not label or prejudice others.

We allow all to come to us on their own terms. People know more about the support needed than we do. We listen and try to give people the tools to empower themselves.

Flexibility is one of our hallmarks. What works for one doesn't meet the needs of another.

People served are humbled to walk through our doors to secure supports. We respect confidentiality and promote dignity of all.

Brian McCleod is a resident of the Transitional Housing Program in East Baltimore, and was able to volunteer with the shower ministry one day. "I was immediately struck by the genuine desire to help exhibited by everyone who I encountered. For me, this ministry REALLY hit home, because a lot of the guys and girls here in the halfway house are NOT YET homeless. They'll be told they have to leave when their release date comes, ready or not to return to society. The work that this ministry and the Crises Center is doing is some of the most important work there is, and has a huge social impact on the surrounding communities and society in general."

Steve Ames, one of our volunteers, "I have been homeless a number of times and done time back in the late 70's and early eighties, so I have unique insight into the problems of homelessness and drug addiction. I am disabled and limited by medical conditions and subsequent weight gain. This ministry helped me to get into an apartment, met with the manager so I was able to keep my cat, and this church provided most of the furniture and household items I needed! While grateful, I seemed to be very rudderless, and volunteering with the ministry has given me an opportunity to give back a little for all I have been given. We are trying to prevent our clients from becoming hopeless because of their drug/alcohol addiction and ending up deeper in the penal system. We work with people one day at a time, and try to help them be the best they can be."

Darlene Gobrecht, volunteer, provided a Biblical perspective: "Can I be a living example of Matthew 25:40? Do I really care about the least of these? If you asked me this several years ago, it would have been a definitive no. I passed them by on city streets, never making eye contact or even saying Hello. I would donate from a distance only. So here I am today, spending time feeding and socializing with men from our homeless community. It is a joy to feed them, and see how much better they feel after their showers. These things we take for granted are very special to them. I am so grateful for the opportunity to be part of His Hands and Feet Ministry. This work has given me a whole new perspective on serving others. We have built relationships with them and feel they trust us. We have many very interesting conversations, even though translation is necessary. One thing is for certain, God's love comes through loud and clear...for 1 morning each week, these guys are welcomed to a place with smiles and hugs and lots of loving care. What a joy to be part of this weekly social club where all feel included!!"

Doug Finley, a more recent volunteer, said: "I have volunteered at the CCC for a long time. I sometimes struggled with the sincerity of those in need, when I saw the way some of the clients were dressed and the nice vehicles they drove. Needless to say, I brought this baggage to the homeless ministry. But since I have been involved in the ministry, I have found an appreciation and awareness of the plight of the homeless. Those we touch are the forgotten and down trodden of our society and can easily be ignored or written off. The ministry provides for the needs of the homeless by providing showers, clothing, and food, but most of all, it is a place for those affected to be heard, treated with respect, and feel they count.

Finally, in summary, what I personally enjoy is that we are providing a place where all are greeted by name and we do things to show respect and that we care. We do little things like "take orders" for the type of Wawa sandwiches they'd prefer, and we hold a particular sandwich for a person when we know they like a certain kind; we serve coffee and sometimes pour it for them. But most of all we ask questions, do a lot of listening, and get to know each person's story. When they are ready, and trust us enough to ask for help, we do everything in our power to respond in order to give them a hand up, and not just a helping hand. In short, we try to change lives one life at a time.

Blessings,
Linda Finley

did for one of the least of these
brothers of mine,
you did for me.

Happy Summer to everyone!

During the summer, Rachel and I are collecting packaged cookies or any other packaged desserts you want to contribute to the Our Daily Bread meal program. With school out of session for the summer, the family rate increases for the meal program. Cookies are a favorite with the kids.

Our Daily Bread desserts are ALL by donations. So, if there are no desserts sent into the facility, then they don't have them to offer to the clients. ODB reported that donations are down over the past several years.

If you are able to bring packaged cookies and/or dessert items, Rachel and I will collect them on the following days:

1. Thursday, August 4th from 1:00 pm - 2:00 pm AND 7:00 pm - 8:00 pm.
2. Thursday, September 1st from 1:00 pm - 2:00 pm AND 7:00 pm - 8:00 pm.
3. Any Sunday morning during church hours (from now through Sept 4th)

In addition, I would like to THANK everyone for the SUGAR donations during LENT! As combined efforts, we sent 404 lbs of SUGAR to ODB. Once again, SUGAR is a donated item and used to make ice tea daily for the clients. Together we are making strides in feeding the homeless and less fortunate in Baltimore!

This mission is ALIVE because of your generosity, caring and support!

Thank you for making a difference!

Blessings,

Kris

Do you have a special child in your life with a family member who is in jail or prison?

Reisterstown United Methodist Church will offer an 8 to 9-week support group for children aged 6 to 12 on Thursday evenings, 6:30 to 7:30 pm.

Thursdays, August 18 through October 13, 2016—6:30 PM

Reisterstown UMC - Rooms 7 and 8—Enter from Large Rear Parking Lot

Each evening will include a chapter from a book entitled Scripture Cat, the story of having family members suddenly gone from Oliver's (the cat's) daily life. In each chapter, Oliver talks about how he's feeling about the changes he is experiencing and how he finds love and acceptance for his suddenly changed life.

Through story, scripture, art and spiritual conversation – as well as over a little snack! – with other children, we hope that each child will find assurance and support for their life as well.

A support/conversation group for adults will be offered at the same time.

Each evening will also offer a time for parents to share with each other as well. Speakers will set the tone and parents will have the opportunity to share with each other about topics to those the children will discuss.

From the Library

From the Shelves

When Winnie Garman founded the Book Club back in 1999, one of the first books that we read was At Home in Mitford by Jan Karon. Recently, Velvia Goodrich suggested that we read it again, so we did.

I enjoyed returning to the quaint town of Mitford. I remembered the rector, Father Tim, and his neighbor Cynthia Copper-smith, but I'd forgotten a lot of the other colorful characters-Barnabas, Father Tim's huge dog who settles down when anyone quotes Scripture to him; Dooley, the boy that Father Tim takes into his home; Samuel "Homeless" Hobbes, who lives in a shack down by the creek; etc. I enjoyed getting to know them again, and whether you're meeting them for the first time or becoming re-acquainted with them, you'll enjoy them too.

At Home in Mitford is the first in a series of books about Mitford, and you can check out this one and the others in our church library. They're worth it.

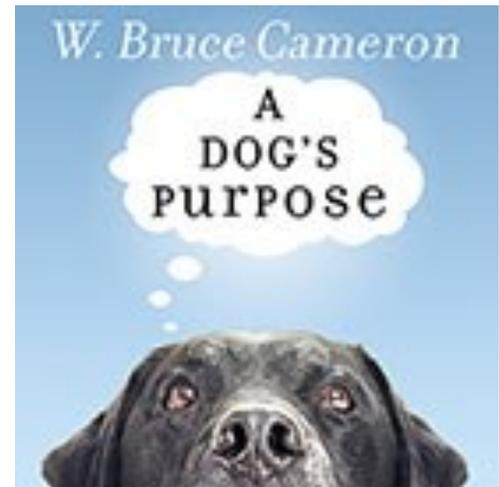

-Beth Waters

Book Club will meet on Wednesday,
August 17,
at 7:00

in the church library.

We will discuss a great animal story which will warm your heart. A Dog's Purpose by Bruce Cameron tells the story of a stray mutt named Bailey who has a very short life but is reborn into a family where he becomes man's best friend.

Library Log

1. The construction of a computer station for History and Records was recently approved. It will be housed in the library just as you go through the door. Many of our church records for the cemetery and for past meetings are now on CD and can be viewed on the screen instead of going through the original documents which are very fragile.

2. A BIG thank you goes out to Brit Weber and Tom Caltrider for being behind the scenes library angels. Before our new bookshelves were installed, Brit removed the necessary moldings, and Tom repaired the areas not hidden by the shelves. We sincerely appreciate your time and expertise.

3. High School Teens, don't forget your summer assignment to read The Men in the Boat. Mrs. Lipp will be scheduling a discussion time for you. This will be announced soon.

The food pantry will be collecting school supplies during the summer months:

- ◇ 3 ring notebooks and paper (not college ruled)
- ◇ Backpacks
- ◇ Packs of dividers
- ◇ Rulers, pencil sharpeners, erasers
- ◇ #2 Pens and pencils
- ◇ Index cards
- ◇ Folders and spiral notebooks
- ◇ Glue sticks, Elmer's glue
- ◇ Flash drives, calculators
- ◇ Composition notebooks
- ◇ Pencil cases

Another thing to remember – when school is out – children who normally eat on the Free and Reduced Meal programs—Often go hungry. Donations usually drop during the summer months when people are on vacation.

Sunday October 2—Monday October 10, 2016

Canada's Maritime Provinces - are dominated by the sea, with a long, jagged coastline punctured by picturesque bays, sandy beaches, towering cliffs, some of the prettiest towns in Canada and the freshest, tastiest lobster in the world. Driving from the US, you'll pass through the often overlooked province of New Brunswick, with plenty of world-class diversions of its own: the gritty, revitalized port of Saint John, the Acadian coast and the Bay of Fundy. Prince Edward Island (PEI) was linked to the mainland by the whopping Confederation Bridge in 1997 and possesses one of the region's most enticing culinary scenes. Leafy, laidback Charlottetown is well worth at least a couple of days, especially as it's just a short hop from the magnificent sandy beaches of the Prince Edward Island National Park. Continue to Nova Scotia, where the provincial capital of Halifax makes an appealing base from which to explore the picturesque coastline.

Price Per person— $2,200/double occupancy $2,750/single occupancy

Tour package includes: 8 nights lodging, room tax, luggage handling (1 pc. /person) 6 dinners, 1 lunch & 8 breakfasts, tax and tips included meals; Atlantic Tours' Tour Director from arrival in St. John, to NB to departure from St. John, NB; basic gratuity for Tour Director ; all bridge, road & ferry tolls from arrival in St. John to departure from St. John; fees for all sightseeing listed in itinerary, and round trip motor coach transportation. NOT INCLUDED: Meals other than those noted above, items of a personal nature, travel insurance.
