

Our Church Matters
 Our Mission: Growing Together in Christ
 Through Worship, Fellowship, Witness and Service

It was an odd sight. Our vacation rental was on the banks of the canal that links the north end of Seneca Lake to another lake, eventually the Erie Canal and the Hudson River. We all thought the current flowed east from Seneca toward the ocean. Makes sense, right?

Not that morning. It was one of those moments when all of us began just kind of staring at the water at the same time because it was flowing west – away from the ocean.

The Finger Lakes and the surrounding countryside are exquisitely beautiful. The lakes were formed by glaciers which carved them out of granite. Steep (and deep!) glacial canyon walls were filled with icy water, carving many cataracts for waterfalls and giving the area a climate that is perfect for food crops.

But why would the water flow the opposite way? I’m not sure I really know (unless it was because the locks were open for boat traffic at that time), and I’m not sure it really matters. But it made me consider how the expected is not always the direction that God takes us – or that God urges us to go.

We know that it’s easier to paddle with the flow. When we try to paddle against the current, it takes muscles – maybe some that we don’t exercise very often. It takes determination – since it’s not the easy pathway. It opens up new possibilities. And maybe it’s right there that we find the wonder of taking God’s pathway.

We all know that God is there for us when we are in need of comfort, torn apart by grief or crisis. There is a familiarity – grace to help in time of need. And we all rely on that familiarity of faith to get us through the tough times.

However, when it comes to being the church, God rarely leads us on a worn pathway – one that may feel tried and true and comfortable but may not be what is necessary for the day or the times or the changing world.

Years ago, a friend and colleague put together a little book of faith exercises, and one of them was a simple question: Today, is your faith more like a rock or a pillow?

We need "pillow days" when faith offers the comfort needed at the end of a long, hard day – when it kind of wraps us up and we can just say "Ahhhhhhhhh!"

But we also need "rock days" when faith is making us wonder what's next. When we can't really rest. When the rock won't let us be still and satisfied with business as usual. When God is drawing us into something that may not be easy.

If your faith has been "pillow-like" for awhile, maybe it's time to look up and see if the current is flowing in an odd direction and discern whether it's time to paddle a new course. If we just keep on keeping on, what beauty, what adventure, what joy might we miss out on?

Blessings on you!

Library Log

There is a computer in the church library that is available if you want to access church records that have been scanned by the Maryland State Archives. The easiest way to access this information is to go to the History and Records page on our website (rumcweb.org/about/historical records) and click on the link you want to see. There are membership records dating back to 1866 and go to 1940. There are also minutes from Board of Trustees 1833 to 1926, and Administrative/ Official Board minutes from 1915 to 1978. The History and Records Team has also converted VHS tapes from VIM trips and concerts to CD so you can watch them in the library. *Note that they are not available for circulation. They are located in the cabinet above the computer. Feel free to access the internet, but please be mindful of others who may want to use the computer. If you have any questions, please contact Pat Botelle.

Kate is an adored preschool teacher but is socially awkward and misunderstood by her peers. Her father, a scientific genius, is about to lose his research assistant due to Visa problems. He has a solution, but it involves getting Kate to marry Pyotr Cherbakov

THANK YOU NOTES

From Spoke Folks:

Thank you so much for hosting us! We appreciate all the cooking and provisions you gave us. The potluck was delicious and it was really fun getting to know your congregation. Your congregation is amazing and so energetic. It was great performing for them. Thank you for allowing us to stay in your church. It is such a beautiful place and has allowed us to grow in faith with each other.

Spoke Folk

From the families of Betty Leppo

Thanks so much for your love and support, and beautiful planter sent to honor Mother's memory Jane, Missy, David and families

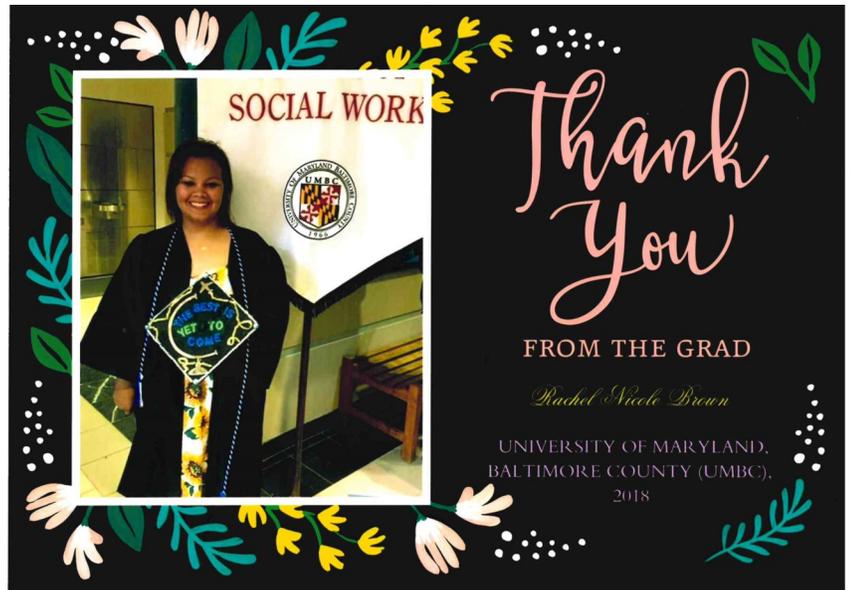

From Jane Peters

Dear Friends and Family

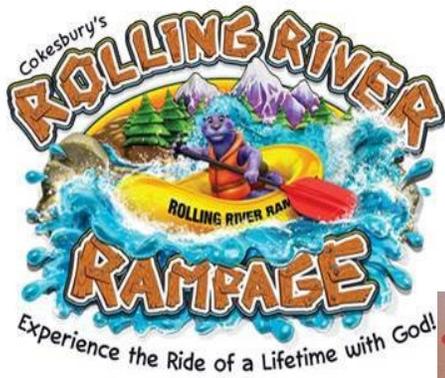

When the planter you sent me arrived it brought a smile to my face and my heart probably skipped a beat. The timing was great as the weight of my mother's passing was especially heavy that day. Thank you for all your expressions of love, support and sympathy.

Tis' around 6:25 on Tuesday 7/24/18 and I am finishing the arranging and sorting of the music for December 2018 here at your church. Wow! It is really breath taking. Please accept my invitation to join choir this season. Yes, the singers will be at their best, but they will need help from those of you who have dreamed about standing with them on Sunday mornings. Why not get caught up in the excitement of giving your gifts back to God and His people?

This has been a difficult year for me. Jesus gave us the key to overcoming when He said "with men this is impossible, but with God ALL things are possible." I appreciate the inclusion, the recognition and most of all, the love you have shared with me over these difficult days. You are really a wonderful loving congregation, and it showed at Emory Grove. WOW! Let's continue to share His grace with each other. Let us take the time to believe with all our hearts that God is working in and through us all. Be kind and gentle to one another. Oh..., and let's SING a little bit stronger on Sunday mornings!

Bill

Audience Of One

I come on my knees
To lay down before you
Bringing all that I am
Longing only to know you
Seeking your face
And not only your hand
I find you embracing me
Just as I am

And I lift these songs
To you and you alone
As I sing to you
In my praises make your home

To my audience of one
You are Father, and you are Son
As your spirit flows free,
Let it find within me
A heart that beats to praise you.
And now just to know you more
Has become my great reward
To see your kingdom come
And your will be done
I only desire to be yours, Lord

So what could I bring
To honor your majesty
What song could I sing
That would move the heart of royalty
And all that I have
Is the life that you've given me
So Lord let me live for you
My song with humility

And Lord as the love song
Of my life is played
I have one desire
To bring glory to your name

To my audience of one
You are Father, and you are Son
As your spirit flows free,
Let it find within me
A heart that beats to praise you.
And now just to know you more
Has become my great reward
To see your kingdom come
And your will be done
I only desire to be yours, Lord

And we lift these songs
To you and you alone
As we sing to you
In our praises make your home

To my audience of one
You are Father, and you are Son
As your spirit flows free,
Let it find within me
A heart that beats to praise you.
And now just to know you more
Has become my great reward
To see your kingdom come
And your will be done
I only desire to be yours, Lord
